DETAILED ACTION

1. This action concerns claims 17-86 and 101, as amended September 12, 2003.

Election/Restrictions

2. Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 17-29, drawn to a method of synthesizing composite material comprised of a highly ordered colloidal crystal and a substrate, classified in class 427, subclass 282.
- II. Claims 30-41, drawn to a method of synthesizing composite material of a colloidal crystal and a substrate, classified in class 427, subclass 240.
- III. Claims 42-51, drawn to a method of synthesizing composite material comprised of a colloidal crystal and a substrate, classified in class 427, subclass 282, 255.27, or 372.2.
- IV. Claims 52-74, drawn to a method of synthesizing composite material of a colloidal crystal and a substrate and a method for producing a film of colloidal particles on a planar surface of a substrate, classified in class 427, subclass 430.1.
- V. Claims 75-86, drawn to a method of synthesizing composite material comprised of a colloidal crystal and a substrate, classified in class 427, subclass 261.
- VI. Claim 101, drawn to a method of producing a Lincoln Log Wood Pile superlattice, classified in class 427, subclass 256+ or 202.

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Art Unit: 1762

3. Inventions I-VI are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different designs, modes of operation, and effects (MPEP § 802.01 and § 806.06). In the instant case, the different inventions are not disclosed as capable of use together and have designs, modes of operation, and effects that are distinct from one-another.

A. For example, inventions I, III, and V utilize capillary forces to draw the colloidal crystal material under the mask, while invention II utilizes spinning to distribute the material across the substrate, invention IV utilizes immersion and the formation of Langmuir-Blodgett films of the material, and invention VI utilizes self-assembly of the material on a pre-applied polymeric layer.

B. Further, among inventions I, III, and V: invention I utilizes a patterned substrate and a planar mask, with formation of the crystal material in the voids of the substrate, while invention III utilizes a planar substrate and a patterned mask, with formation of the crystal material in the voids of the mask; invention V, while it is similar to invention III in that it utilizes a planar substrate and a patterned mask, results in the crystal material being distributed in a cured polymer matrix.

4. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art in view of their different classification, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

5. Because these inventions are independent or distinct for the reasons given above and the inventions require a different field of search (see MPEP § 808.02), restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Art Unit: 1762

6. Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include (i) an election of a species or invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143) and (ii) identification of the claims encompassing the elected invention.

The election of an invention or species may be made with or without traverse. To reserve a right to petition, the election must be made with traverse. If the reply does not distinctly and specifically point out supposed errors in the restriction requirement, the election shall be treated as an election without traverse.

Should applicant traverse on the ground that the inventions or species are not patentably distinct, applicant should submit evidence or identify such evidence now of record showing the inventions or species to be obvious variants or clearly admit on the record that this is the case. In either instance, if the examiner finds one of the inventions unpatentable over the prior art, the evidence or admission may be used in a rejection under 35 U.S.C.103(a) of the other invention.

7. Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).

Any inquiry concerning this communication or earlier communications from the examiner should be directed to William P. Fletcher III whose telephone number is (571) 272-1419. The examiner can normally be reached on Monday through Friday, 0900h-1700h.
